GAME WARDENS MEETING

PROPOSE MANY CHANGES IN PRESENT STATE LAWS

In the interest of better game and fishing laws, about 125 game wardens, sportsmen and other representatives of the Department of Inland Game and Fisheries will meet in the assembly room at Murphy's Hotel this morning at 10 o'clock in a conference directed by Colonel F. Nash Rillison and R. J. Corbell, in the absence of Malcolm D. Hart, chief clerk of the game and fisheries department, who is seriously ill in his home in Ashland.

Governor Westmoreland Davis will address the delegates, following which there will be discussion concerning the present laws, wherein improvements in the statutes will be recommended for adoption at the next annual session of the Virginia Legislature in January.

Members of the Virginia Game and Fish Protective Association, which is an organization for Virginia sportsmen, will represent their association in a joint meeting with the game wardens at tonight's session. Tomorrow a committee will be appointed from the delegates to meet jointly with another committee from the Protective Association, for the purpose of drawing up a formal resolution containing the adjustments suggested at the conference.

Among the amendments under consideration which will be suggested for adoption by the Legislature is a law requiring a license for rod and reel fishing in Virginia, with a view of confining the revenue proceeds to the establishment of a bass hatchery.

Certain changes in the dog tax laws are thought probable as a result of the conference. At that time it is costing Virginia $30,000 a year to enforce the laws relative to dog license.

Proceedings of the conference will begin today at 10 o'clock and will last until 1 o'clock this afternoon, convening again at 8 o'clock. The conference will conclude tomorrow.

VOTERS' RIGHTS DEFINED

HANK HANDS DOWN OPINION REGARDING NEW RESIDENTS

Assistant Attorney-General Holds Man Qualified If Here Two Years Before Election.

Men who have not been residents of the State for two years can register and vote in the next regular elections provided they have lived in Virginia two years by the time of the election. This was the ruling made in an opinion drawn yesterday by Assistant Attorney-General J. D. Hank, Jr., and Mr. Hank, chief clerk of the State and the Civic Association.

An opinion on the point was requested by Dr. Anderson in order to guide prospective voters in the city elections in the spring. It is said to have been prompted by the refusal of registrars in some sections of Richmond to register men who have not lived in the State for two years.

Mr. Hank cited Section 26 of the Constitution of Virginia as the authority for his ruling. He also declared in his opinion that registrars may be compelled to list men who will have lived in the State two years by the time of the next regular election. The provision requiring registration of men falling in the class of new residents is, in his opinion, mandatory, it was stated in the opinion.

In an opinion given J. B. Pace, City Treasurer, yesterday, Mr. Hank settled two questions connected with the right of suffrage. He declared that Mr. Pace should include in his certified list of men qualified to vote on June 8, 1920, those who paid their poll taxes in the required time, although they had not been assessed for the years for which they had their taxes.

Go to Hastings Clerk.

Another section of the opinion provided that those who paid their delinquent poll taxes to City Treasurer Pace, although they are properly collected by the clerk of Hastings Court, should also be included on the list of voters. In a letter to Mr. Hank asking for the opinion, Mr. Pace stated that he had received delinquent poll taxes for 1918 and 1919 through the mails and wish to be informed of his procedure.

Delinquent taxes received by Mr. Pace should be turned over to the clerk of Hastings Court, it was said in the opinion. The ruling was made that he was not compelled to accept the taxes and turn them over to the proper office and include those who paid among the accredited voters.
